

Events at All Saints

Devon Ringly Ringers Tower bell change ringing is our national music and considered the sound of England. It has developed over the last 400 years. While most of the country ring the same kind of music, a different form has developed in the far west. The Devon Ringly Ringers perform here as part of their annual tour.

Friday 9 July 11.15am-12noon.

St. James Singers South Oxfordshire's 10 piece male voice capella ensemble present Timeless Song: the Poetry of Music. A celebration of words and music from eight centuries. A wide variety of forms is represented in the evening's programme including plainchant, chanson, lute-song, the English West Gallery and folk tradition, and songs from the New World by featured songwriter Stephen Foster. The songs are interspersed with poems inspired by music and written by poets as diverse as Andrew Marvell, William Owen and Walt Whitman. Refreshments available during the interval. Donations towards Festival funds welcomed. Friday 9 July 8pm.

Flowers in All Saints Floral arrangements - with a tint of Lord Berners. Light refreshments available. Saturday 10 July 10am-6pm & Sunday 11 July 12noon-6pm.

Cotswold Voices Recently formed with over fifty members, Cotswold Voices repertoire includes original complex 5-part choral arrangements of well known popular songs such as California Dreaming, and Take That and Abba medleys.

Saturday 10 July 10.45am.

Abbie Fidler 13 year old Abbie has an incredible voice. Listen to her effortless covers of songs by Eva Cassidy, Rhianna, The Corrs and more. Piano accompaniment by teacher Joe Moore. Saturday 10 July 11.15am.

Matthew Kilford Making his Faringdon Arts Festival debut as a solo artist with songs that highlight his extraordinary voice and skillful guitar playing, whilst retaining hooks and a unique songwriting slant, Matthew has crafted a set of tunes that possess echoes of Jeff Buckley, PJ Harvey and Joni Mitchell without sounding like any of them.

Sunday 11 July 1pm.

Phousa An acoustic folk singer-songwriter based in Witney, Phousa has been writing and performing soulful, intimate songs influenced by artists such as Damien Rice, Nerina Pallot and India Arie for five years. She sings of love, loss and life and sounds like a cocktail of toe-tapping and heartache. Sunday 11 July 2pm
